THE INTELLIGENCER does not deny the right of a member of the University Board of Regents to "express what he feels concerning the politics of his county and State." It does hold, however, that to make the occasion of their ofticial visit to a State educational institution a time to vent their partisan views in the newspapers is improper. The Register, in its defense of the gentlemen referred to, wholly misconstrues our crit icism for purposes of its own.

Somenony has been having fun at the expense of the Washington correspondgraphs his paper that Hon, William L Wilson, of this State, will hardly accept the position of President of the University of Missouri, since he has good pros Republicans of West Virginia have any ate, and the Democrats will not have an body for many years to come.

Shameful Indifference.

That the House of Representatives of the United States should show contempt for the memory of the late Samuel J. Randall is shameful. Only thirty-five nounced upon the dead statesman on Saturday, the day set apart by a resolution for the memorial service. In view of the expressions of sorrow that came time of his death, as well as of the position her husband had occupied as a him. great political leader, and as Speaker o of the House, it is no wonder that Mrs Randall was inexpressibly shocked at the indifference displayed. Not only was this indifference shown by the large number of vacant scale, but by the list less manner of those who were present.

That even those who had proposed the greatest friendship for Mr. Kandall, who were closely related to him politically and socially, were the most con spicuous by their absence was disgrace ful and inexplicable. The people of the country should blush for their repre sentatives who displayed such disgrace ful indifference to the proprietics of appointed to investigate charges made against the administration of the Civil Service Bureau is now before the House. The resignation of Commissioner Lyman will, in all probability follow at no distant day. The committee finds as

First. That Commissioners Roosevelt and Thompson have discharged their duties with eatire fidelity and integrity.
second. That the official conduct of Commissioner Lyman has been characterized by laxity of discipline in the administration of the affairs of the Commission and is therefore censurable. Thus the charges made against Lyman

a year ago, and which were first published specifically in the INTELLIGENCER'E Washington specials, have been to all intents and purposes substantiated. These charges were, briefly, that a brother-in-law of Lyman, by name Campbell, an employe of the office, had sold questions proposed for examinations in advance of those examinations That Lyman, who was at the time sole oner, after being informed o his relative's doings, had not only practically disregarded the information, but had promoted Campbell within a short

The committee has cloaked its findings in temperate language, but the result is none the less conclusive. Roosevelt and Thompson, who had to-under-go examination in connection with the Milwaukee postoffice scandal, are whitewashed. They are comparatively new in the ways of the commission and it is supposed that this operates in their favor. Nevertheless, public confidence in the workings of the Civil Service laws, which has continued to exist long after everybody intimately acquainted with them had "lost faith," cannot but receive a hard shock.

The committee further reports that it will proceed at once to investigate "the workings of the system and present a subsequent report when said investigation shall have been completed, together with a report of its conclusions,'

It will be interesting to note the result of its investigations in this respect. Nobody doubts for an instant what the motive of that report would be provided the committee dares to give voice to its real sentiments. But the same influences which have for several years induced Congressmen to vote to perpetuate the Civil Service system as at present constituted may produce a further coat of whitewash. The people at large have not had, nor cannot have, opportunity to judge fairly of the merits of Civil Service. They cannot know that its name is but an euphonism for all kinds of hypocrisy and deceit; that it simply opens new avenues of intrigue to politicians of all parties; that it is perhaps the veriest whited sepulchre existing in the counwhited sepulchre existing in the country to-day.

The Congressmen and Government officials who do not know and do not say that all these things and more are true of our present Civil Service system are so few as to be hardly worth mentioning. But they also know that their constituencies are for the law as it stands; that there is a great popular prejudice in its favor; and they must follow the dictates of their constituencies. There was a larger vote against the appropriation for the Civil Service Commission at the lates of their constituences.

Tin Plate Again.

A correspondent writes to the New York Press for "an intelligent reason for the increase of duty on tin plates," and the editor in his reply gives in a few words a comprehensive statement which is one of the best arguments in favor of the McKinley duty we have yet seen.
